10. Read the poem below and answer the questions that follow:

Wealth Wealth Wealth, Our source of happiness.

The young and the Old, all long for you.

They toil from morning to evening all in search for you!

Parents put smiles on the faces of their children.

Employers put smiles on the faces of their employees.

Rich husbands make their wives proud, who doesn't desire you!

The poor and the rich wake up early to seek you; children wake up to seek for

What a wonder you are, if only the could find you!!

If only the rich could have enough of you.

If only the children could clasp you, if only they knew

Only God gives real wealth.

(Christine K and Lydia K)

TASK:

- From the poem above, identify how wealth brings happiness.
- Discuss other ways that can bring happiness to people.
- From the poem, identify the people that desire wealth.

11. Read the story below and answer the questions that follow:

Mr. Kaduduba is a Kiswahili teacher in Kiti Secondary School. He is responsible, disciplined and result oriented. He used to assist the games Master to take learners to the field. While doing this, he discovered that he was good at football and could train the students at times when games Master was absent. Towards the end of last term, the games Master got another job that gave him a better salary and good allowances. He submitted his resignation letter and suggested that Mr. Kiduduba takes up his duty.

Mr. Kiduduba was promoted and learners were very happy because they were familiar with him. He immediately introduced a new strategy that would help to increase on the number of learners participating in games and also on how to win the Coca-Cola tournaments. He discussed with the Head teacher and welcomed it and students started to register in games they felt comfortable.

On one occasion, a boy called Katongole performed well in Volleyball and Athletics. This surprised many who knew him as a reserved boy. This motivated him to participate more and even joined the school team. By the end of the term, his school for the first time qualified for the Coca-Cola tournament and were involved in inter school competitions.

TASK:

- a) With reference to the story, explain how Mr. Kaduduba discovered his talent.
 - b) Discuss how Mr. Kaduduba has benefited from his talent
 - c) Explain the dangers of the type of leisure that Katongole used to engage in.
 - d) As a CRE what advice would you give to Katongole on other ways of spending leisure time
- (20 scores)
