ITEM 2

Due to the heavy recent rains received in the Lake Victoria basin, Kasolya high school was among the many schools which were destroyed by storm, floods and strong winds that made a 100years tree to fall and destroyed multiple buildings.

Among the buildings that were damaged was the computer laboratory; the iron sheets were twisted and carried away by storm and the tree that fell destroyed the all facility and all the ICT tools that were there beyond repair. All the destroyed computers were collected and the school is planning to dump them. The administration is also planning to build a new facility but reluctant to start because they would like to have a facility that can withstand all condition both environmental and external threats or uncertainties that can cause damage again.

Task.

- a) Write a report commenting on their plan for the destroyed ICT tools and how best it can have handled.
- b) Explain to the administration on what they should consider for the proposed new facility.

Item 3

ICT today in this modern society as became an employable skill in that to get a well-paying job, one needs to know to use at least some ICT tools such as smart phones, laptops and tablets. This can be evident with drastic increase in telecommuting (working from home), high rates of smart phone usage and increased employment opportunities both employee and self-employed but with all of that being good, it has exposed people to different consequences due to continuous use of ICT tools such as loss of privacy, healthy issues and data loss.

Task;

come up with a presentation that can enable the public to further understand the consequences and how best they can avoid them.

Item 4.
