SECTION A

1. Read the text below and respond to the items that follow.

GROOMING THE BRIDE AMONG THE ITESOTS

The celebration of the honeymoon for any newlywed couple in any culture is a significant doorway into their married life. Among the Teso culture in the days following the traditional marriage, the bride has to prove her worth in her newly marriage.

"Honeymoon is no time to sit and massage one's hands.it is time to test the bride's ability as a wife" says Jonathan Angora whose wife went through the Teso honeymoon decades ago.

"Teso culture dictates that the new bride should be given choices to prove that she is worthy of her new title. She is required to wake up very early every morning, fetch water and prepare breakfast before going to the garden. Once she has worked enough for the day, she has to go back home and prepare lunch. She will fetch water for another in law, should they ask. This is before she comes back to prepare supper. At times, she may be asked by a sister- in- law to grind millet for a meal," adds Angura.

Her mother-in-law will prepare for her. Anyone who gives the bride to do, prepares food for and usually gives her a gift to take to her husband. The gifts taken are in form of maize, ground nuts, millet etc. She then takes these food items, gifts to her mother-in-law with whom she still lives with.

The chores given to the bride are not only from her husband or mother-inlaw, but other family members especially older women. These could be aunts of her husband, step mother and grandmother.

Depending on the family setting, the new bride is mainly attached to the mother-in-law. This because she may not have food and sauce pans of her own. So, she will cook with her mother-in-law until she and her husband can afford to live on their own.

The honeymoon phase may last anywhere from six months to two years depending on how the wife relates with her mother-in-law.

When the wife is nor at home or doing chores, goes she visiting with her husband.

The couple visits the man's relatives particularly aunts, uncles, brothers so they know he is now a married man. "This is the time when the bride learns about her husband's clan, the taboos and any other practices," adds Angura.

Honeymoon ends when the wife leaves her mother-in-laws kitchen by stocking her own food. However, the honeymoon can also be short-lived depending on how she behaves. If she is quarrelsome and disrespectful the wife can be independent in as fast as three months.

If the honeymoon does not end prematurely, during this time parents of the bride are eager to know how their daughter is faring. They send emissaries to find out how she is treated. And should they come to know that she is not happy, the bride's parents call her back home.

Sam Apedel says the bride usually came to her new home with two girls who would help integrate her in the new surroundings, but would also use the opportunity to scout for future husbands. The girls stayed for about three weeks to two months then returned.

"A virgin bride would get a goat as a reward. The goat would be given to the mother in appreciation" Apedel adds.

Item 1

Mercy, Pesh and Sarah are friends that live together. They all work as shop attendants in different shops and they rent the same house sharing rent fees. Mercy's shop sales pens as ones at Shs. 500, Pesh's shop sells pens in pairs at Shs. 1,200 per pair and Sarah's shop sales pens in bundles of five at Shs. 4,000 each bundle. A full box of pens contains 50 pens and is bought. On one day, Sarah sold 2 boxes of Pens, Mercy sold pens that are half Sarah's pens and Penny sold pens that are thrice Mercy's pens.

TASK:

a) How much did each individual earn that day?

- b) If they sell the same number of pens every day, how much will each individual have at the end of the month of 30 days?
- c) If at the end of the month Pesh contributes 1/4 of his income towards rent, Mercy contributes 1/3 of his income towards rent and Sarah contributes money that is less than that of Pesh by shs.150, 000, how much will they have all together for rent at the end of the month in words?
- d) If you bought pens from Pesh's shop every day while storing in your drawer for five days and your friend buys from Sarah's shop every day while storing in his drawer for also five days. What is the smallest common number of pens you two will have in the drawers?
- e) If you two decide to share your pens with your other friends in class, what is the highest number of friends you will share your pens with.
- f) Prime factorize pens of two boxes.

Item 2

Two learners were given a task of plotting the following points on the grid. A (0, 4) B (2, 2), C (4, 2), D (2, 0), E (4, -2), F (0, -1), G (-4, -2), H (-2, 0), I (-4, 2) and J (-2, 2). Before they plotted the points, Jane told Musa that when plotting, for point A you move 4units to the right of the origin and no movement along the y-axis from the origin. For point C you move 2 units to the right of the origin and 4 units parallel to the y-axis in the positive direction. Musa said no for point A there is no movement along the x-axis, you only move 4 units along the y-axis. While for point C you move 4 units from the origin on the x-axis, then two units parallel to the y-axis.

TASK

- (a) Comment with reasons on Jane's explanation of plotting the points.
- (b) Using Musa's explanation, plot the coordinates.

(c) Join the points to form a polygon. State the equation of the line of symmetry.

Item 3

A school had certain regulations about the amount of pocket money and the numbers of casual wear were allowed to have in their dormitories. During the inspection of the dormitory which contained 16 learners, it was found that 8 learners had too much pocket money and 9 learners had too many casual wear.

TASK

- (a) What was the number of learners breaking both rules?
- (b) How many learners were breaking regulation of pocket money only?
- (c) How many students did not break any rule?

Item 4

It was discovered that financial problems are the major reason as to why learners fail to complete their respective courses at tertiary level. So it was decided in the meeting that each learner struggling financially be provided with an envelope of the bursary in terms of dollars based on merit given that each envelope contains equal amount. 11 universities with large number of students in the country are benefiting from this program. The number of 8 students are as follows: 3,4,6,9,8,5,10,7,13,15,16 and 18.

TASK

- a) Using the knowledge of mathematical operations and bases, draw a distribution plan to help the NCHE and MOES on how to distribute the bursaries to the beneficiaries. Determine the actual number of bursaries the NCHE and MOES will give to the students.
- b) In case there are remaining bursaries, discuss what the NCHE and MOES should do with them.

TASK

- (a) What was the identity of the liquid? Clearly show your working.
- (b) With a reason which of the liquids shown in the table above can float on water? And identify the liquids on which water floats
- (c) Give any two practical applications of the knowledge of density.

Item 2

The head teacher of your school has just bought posho for learners to eat which is claimed to be containing some small metallic particles which can be deadly to student's lives.

He is confused about what to do with the posho and has already spent the school's money to buy it and cannot return it to the shop.

The school has got a long insulated copper wire, switch, a 6-inch iron nail, connecting wires, a battery and iron fillings. The head teacher is advised by the food prefect to call you to come and give a help.

TASK

- (a) Help your head teacher on how he can use the available materials to design a prototype simple device that can be used to sort the impurities from the flour.
- (b) Suggest the precautions that must be taken while designing and using the device.
- (c) State two methods of magnetization and demagnetization.

Item 3

A barber was given a curved mirror of focal length 30 cm so that he could use it as a shaving mirror in his saloon.

- a) Identify the type of curved mirror given to the barber
- b) Use a ray diagram to illustrate the use of the selected curved mirror as a shaving mirror
- c) What are the properties of the image formed above?

Item 4

Moses and James were invited to attend a meeting which was to be conducted during the day and at night was a party. As they were travelling on a tarmac road in min-bus they observed a pool of water ahead but on reaching at that point the pool of water was not there and thought it was magic. The meeting was conducted on a projector and Moses sat in front but could not see clearly thus shifted and sat behind where he saw everything clearly. Moses had put on a red T-shirt with blue spots while James was in a yellow T- shirt with green strips. In the room there was two bulbs A, which gives off white light and B, which gives off a green light. When the meeting ended, late evening the party started with bulb A on and B off. Later the music started with bulb A switched off and B turned on and the T-shirts for Moses and James changed the colours.

TASK

- (a) Explain the pool of water observed by the two boys in their way.
- (b) Which eye defect is Moses suffering from and explain using a ray diagram how it can be solved.
- (c) What colour(s) did the T-shirts of Moses and James turn to when bulb B was switched on? Explain your answer.

AGRICULTURE HOLIDAY PACKAGE

Item 1

In the struggle to ensure food security by the government of Uganda. Agricultural institutions including NARO have embarked on the task of providing Agrictural inputs such as tools, fertilizers and pesticides. This has been spearheaded by the continuous low production as a result of the low soil fertility, pests and diseases which affect farmer's yield. However, many farmers especially in remote areas have been forward storing fertilizers in stores used to keep harvested produce, some keep the pesticides in soda bottles, and any they don't use any protective gears when applying the fertilizers and pesticides. In addition, according to the report by the extension officer, many farmers were found using the tools to perform tasks that they were not designed for and neglecting the cleaning and repairing of the damaged ones.

TASK

In your opinion, advise these farmers on the proper use and the safety precautions they should take when using the different inputs.

Item 2

Mr. Katende is a local cattle farmer rearing mainly local breeds of cattle. However, he would love to upgrade his cattle with semen from the Bown Swiss bull found only at the National Agricultural Research Institute in Entebbe. The semen can be delivered to him along with the veterinary officer to help introduce the semen to his cows in case they are on heat. Because of his ignorance about this new breeding method and detection of heat signs, he is not sure whether he should make the phone call or not.

TASK

Advise Mr. Katende on what he should put in mind before making the phone call to the National Agricultural Research Institute in Entebbe.

Item 3

Smallholder dairy farmers in your community graze their animals on natural grasslands. The animals are seen licking the red soil of anthills found in the grassland areas, take a lot of time to mature or reproduce and have protruding bones. Fortunately, the government has introduced to them quality livestock feeds including cotton seed cake, soybean meal, maize bran, rice bran, minerals such as salt and they are advised how they can formulate rations.

TASK

Talk to these farmers highlighting the guidelines they should consider when mixing these feeds and what would affect the utilization of the rations by their animals.

Item 4

In Nakaseke village, farmers were provided with potato vines, cassava cuttings and a few improved tree seedlings. However, due to their ignorance some did not bother to use them in their gardens. Up to now, these farmers still complain about the low yield, prolonged maturity rates and low quality of their crops. And others have persistently continued to use their locally produced seeds in planting and other planting materials thus continuous low production.

TASK

How would you help the farmer to identify the method of crop multiplication that they were introduced to, how they will benefit and the challenges they expect with the newly introduced technology.

Item 5

In Uganda a wide variety of vegetables are grown. Some have been grown for a long time and many more have been introduced in the country in recent years. They provide both nutritional and financial benefits to humans. However, many farmers incur a lot of challenges in their vegetable production enterprises right from the choice of seeds, the infertile soils used, the poor farming methods used which leads to low- and poor-quality yields realized.

TASK

How would you advise these farmers?

This enables the learners to relate what they learn in the classroom with what really exist outside the world. You have been taken to carry out fieldwork on Lake Katwe salt mining site in western Uganda. Use it to respond to the Items that follow.

- a) As you were heading to Katwe salt mining site, did you see physical features that can make more money for Uganda? If yes state them.
- b) How do you think the above physical features come into place?
- c) Do you think Katwe salting mining site is well utilized? Support your response?
- d) If you were given a chance to come up with ways of developing Katwe salt mining site. What economic activities would you set up their and why?
- e) Why is it that when you moved around Lake Katwe, there was no Fishermen there?
- f) Is there any form of environmental degradation you noticed around Lake Katwe? Justify your response?

Item 4

Elgon in Eastern Uganda is one of the mountains formed through the process of Volcanicity. It is one of the most densely populated areas in East Africa in the districts of Mbale, Bududa, Sironko, Manafwa among others. In March 2010, this sub region experienced a tragedy where more than 100 people perished as a result of landslides more especially in areas of Bulucheke, Buwalasi, Bumayoka and Nametsi. Apart from losing dear ones, other effects were also registered.

TASK

a) Assuming the Ministry for disaster preparedness in Uganda is organizing the environmental day to be celebrated in September 2023 at Mbale municipal grounds and as a resident of Bududa district, you have been selected as one of the speakers on that day. Prepare your speech, which should clearly bring out what could have caused the landslides, how were the people and environment affected and the measures the government should undertake to mitigate the above hazard.

b) Even after losing more than 100 people plus property worth millions, many residents decided to remain on the slopes of mountain Elgon. Why do you think people took such a decision?

CRE HOLIDAY PACKAGE

Item 1

Mr. Obina grew up in an extended family. He did not like his experience with it. He therefore opted for a nuclear family; after marriage it was his wife, children, and himself that mattered. He did not want anything to do with relatives. His son Patrick after marriage allowed in his home both his mother in-law and her daughter. Life was okay at home at first since the Grandmother could take care of the children and keep the home. Her daughter helped her with house chores as Patrick's wife had a job which engaged her every day from morning to evening. A problem arose when the wife accused Patrick of having a relationship with her sister. Mr. Obina advised his son to get his sister-in-law out of his home in order to have peace. However, getting rid of the young lady was not an option because the mother would not let her go. Patrick's wife also insisted that her mother could not go because she loved her so much and cannot trust any maid with her children. She threatened to leave Patrick if he sends them away. Patrick did not know what to do.

TASK

- a) As a learner of CRE, prepare a radio presentation of 30 minutes to advise people like Patrick and his family on the importance of family in the promotion of unity, loyalty, generosity and harmonious living.
- b) Prepare a presentation for a radio talk show addressing the problem above.
